

COMMITTED TO DISABLED CUSTOMERS? GET ACCREDITED

Are you looking for a way to demonstrate your pro-active commitment to your disabled customers? If so, then CredAbility could be just what you are looking for.

CredAbility is an accreditation and quality assurance system which has been designed and developed by disabled people and aims to provide peace of mind when purchasing goods and services. It provides you, the provider, an opportunity to demonstrate that you are suitably experienced and qualified to carry out your business.

If you have invested in making sure that you deliver high quality goods and services, which are attractive to disabled customers, why not demonstrate it with the CredAbility mark. Your buildings can also be accredited separately under Nimbus' Verified Accessible scheme.

ACCREDITATION PROCESS

Accreditation is a simple but robust process whereby providers complete a self-assessment form and provide supporting evidence to a central team for verification. Evidence will be in scale to the type of goods and services being provided so that providers of all sizes will be on an equal footing.

Become accredited and have use of the CredAbility logo, receive a copy of the Charter, take part in the Providers Hub, have your services promoted directly to disabled people and, most importantly, become part of a growing movement, which takes pride in its commitment to disabled customers.

COSTS

One of the things we realised by working closely with both providers and disabled people is that we did not want prohibitive cost to be a barrier to participation in the scheme. Therefore we have come up with a pricing structure, which we believe is affordable for even the smallest of providers.

Initial Accreditation (paper-based)*	£100
Yearly Renewal (paper-based)*	£75

*Accreditation and renewal site visits can be arranged, fee given on application

Both CredAbility and Nimbus: Disability Consultancy are social enterprises and members of the Disability Syndicate, which means that as well as providing you with a high quality, cost-effective service, they invest their profits into Disability Direct, a great charity facilitating independent living opportunities for disabled people.
